COME OUT AND TALK TO OUR EXPERTS!

Last May, the first ever American Koi Breeders' Show was held in Winston-Salem, NC. Based on the great feedback and support of the show, the second American Koi Breeders' Show will be held in Westminster, MD, September 12-14, 2008. The Mid-Atlantic Koi Club's 20th Annual Koi Show will host our second show. They have really helped out the breeders by supplying our show tanks, and setting up our aeration and splash-guards. Thank you to Ellie Cooper, Bill Story, Peter Ponzio!

Judging will take place on Saturday morning by an esteemed group of judges: Charles Phelps (AKCA, co-head judge), Tom Ayers (AKCA, assistant judge), Henry Culpepper (AKCA candidate judge), Robert Johnson (ZNA co-head judge), Alan Stein (ZNA assistant judge), and Dick Thomas (ZNA candidate judge). Thank you judges for volunteering to judge the 2nd Annual AKBS!

This year, we have also added a new exciting feature to the show. On Sunday at 11am, the breeders will be doing a tank side talk about their breeding program. This is your chance to be able to ask questions from some of the top koi breeders in the USA.

Quality Koi Company will be bringing a large selection of koi between our AKBS tanks (all QKC koi entered into the AKBS will be for sale) and our vendor booths, so please make sure you visit us during the show.

Quality Koi Company is excited to be able to bring out some of our best koi and be in the company of other great American Koi Breeders! And possibly bring home the Grand Champion award again this year....

New Shipping Point System

We are feeling the effects of the inflating shipping costs. Due to the water weight being the main issue in the cost of shipping, shipping more than one koi at a time can help cut down the cost of shipping. But, it has become confusing on how to mix different sizes of koi to ship safely in the same box. We have come up with a point system, similar to koi clubs stocking point system for koi shows. Below you will see how many point each size is worth. You can mix and match sizes until the points add up to the maximum number that your desired box size will hold.

Quality Koi on

In effort to bring Nisei Koi to more hobbyist, we have open a store on EBay— <http://stores.ebay.com/Quality-Koi-Company>.

On EBay we will be auctioning a variety of koi of different sizes.

The koi won on EBay can be shipped, mostly via USPS Express Over Night. This service is door to door shipping. For larger box orders we will ship via airline to your closest airport. If shipping by airline is necessary we will be in contact with the buyer to make flight arrangements.

We have been asked to ship the koi on lower services, but due to the lack of guarantee of arrive time with the lower services we can not risk a live animal not reaching its destination on time. We hope all koi hobbyist can understand where we are coming from on this issue.

To help with shipping cost we are offering "combined shipping" Koi can be purchased from different auctions and shipped together. We will hold the koi up to 7 days for combined orders. Please use are above point system to assist in combining orders.

EBay koi are welcome to be picked up during our retail hours: Sat 10-3pm and Sun 12-3pm.

We would like to assure buyers that the picture of the koi you are bidding on in in fact the koi you will be receiving. We do not display "sample variety" photos. If for any reason the koi you purchased can not ship, we will contact you with a replacement or refund.

All transactions can be done quickly and easily thru Pay Pal.

We are happy to answer all questions to help make your purchase

Qualitykoi.com will continue to display exclusive koi only found on our site.

2008 Main Event Harvest

Can you believe its time to start planning for our Fall Harvest! The koi are growing well and basking in the warm mud ponds. But its not long now before these koi will be returning to the greenhouses. With only 2 months to go we are beginning to move koi around and clear out the system that these koi will be coming into to spend the winter. Any maintenance on the tanks has to be done before they come inside to assure they are entering a safe environment. Of course for us our biggest problem is space for everyone. The more koi we make the more room we need, so new takes are currently being up put and hopefully ready to go soon! As well as preparing for the upcoming months, we also have to continue our summer work; feeding, culling, pond walking, selling, which should lead us to a successful harvest.

The majority* of the koi that returned to the mud ponds to be harvested during our Main event can viewed on our website under Mud Ponds. Please use these pages and the harvest schedule to help plan your trip.

Due to hobbyist from all around the country attending the harvest we will not cancel or delay this event, so please be prepared for weather conditions.
